J. PALMER

"'Leadership' is a concept we often resist. It seems immodest, even self-aggrandizing, to think of ourselves as leaders. But if it is true that we are made for community, and it can be an evasion to insist that it is not. When we live in the close-knit ecosystem called community, everyone follows and everyone leads."

CONNECTION TO OTHERS

"Intrepid Landcare was one of most phenomenal weekends of my life. It was so refreshing to meet like-minded, inspiring and caring young people from my area that before the retreat I had no idea even existed." Jordan, West Gippsland

CONNECTION TO NATURE

"I have never connected to nature the way I did in Australia with Landcare." - Christel,
International student, Netherlands

CONNECTION TO CULTURE

A group of people are gathered on a sandy beach, participating in a cultural activity. In the center, a woman in a black long-sleeved shirt and black pants, wearing a red beanie, is standing and gesturing with her hands. To her left, a man in a light blue t-shirt and khaki shorts is also gesturing. In the foreground, several people are crouching or kneeling on the sand, some with their hands on the ground. To the right, a man in a white t-shirt and dark pants is standing with his back to the camera, gesturing. In the background, the ocean is visible under a cloudy sky, with hills or mountains in the distance.
